THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

POLITICIANS INVITED TO WITNESS POLITICAL PLAY 'COUNTY CHAIRMAN'

With the members of both houses of the legislature, territorial and city and county officials, together with their ladies, the guests of the management of the Bijou theater tonight to witness Henry W. Savage's phenomenally successful production of George Ade's brilliant comedy of love and politics, "The County Chairman."

"The County Chairman" is the vehicle used by Savage, also by Maelyn Arbuckle, to make his debut into the silent drama. Another point of interest that surrounds this offering is the fact that the run of the original production established a new record in theatrical history.

The film adaptation, due to the limitations of the oral stage, permits of even a more vivid and more elaborate interpretation of the plot than was possible in the stage version. The film version is presented with many members of the original cast.

'BEHIND THE SCENES' WITH LITTLE MARY PICKFORD AT YE LIBERTY

"When will you have another 'Pickford' feature?" is a question that is asked of and answered by some employees of the Consolidated Amusement Company almost daily.

The answer will be at Ye Liberty theater tonight when "Behind the Scenes," agreed by the critics of the mainland to be Miss Pickford's stellar offering, will be given its Honolulu premier. Incidentally this big Paramount feature will be shown at popular prices, thereby instituting the new policy of the Consolidated Amusement Company of "the best obtainable at the least possible cost."

This same service, previously shown at 50 cents, will be given at Ye Liberty for 30 cents. The service will be identical with that of the past. In fact, according to Samuel Blair, from whom the Paramount service was secured, the offerings of the future in most instances excel those of the past.

"Behind the Scenes" is a popular theatrical play of non-dramatic drama of life with the glamor of the footlights. In the role of the little actress, Mary Pickford renders one of the best characterizations of her brilliant career.

In addition to the Paramount feature there will be shown the tenth episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery" and an up-to-the-minute Pathe Weekly. At today's matinee the first 200 ladies attending will be presented with a beautiful souvenir photograph of "America's Little Sweetheart."

"Quo Vadis," one of the most spectacular productions ever filmed, will be the big feature at the Popular theater for the week beginning with the matinee this afternoon. There also will be a daily matinee in addition to the evening performance to give the children as well as the older folks an opportunity to witness this historical romance. There are nine reels in this production and two hours and a half are required to complete the performance. From start to finish it is replete with magnificent pageants. The scenes are laid and acted in Rome and the land of Caesar, its people and their customs are shown with life-like fidelity, impressing the lover of history with the showing of the magnificent palaces, catacombs, arena and other historical places, as well as Nero and his followers.

Those who lean towards romance can absorb the beautiful story of the great love of Vinius for the sweet Lygia which turned him from a selfish pagan into a faithful Christian and the heroic sacrifice of the beautiful slave Eunice for her brilliant master Petronius.

Those who take their pleasure in excitement will find ample satisfaction in the chariot races in the arena, the combats of the gladiators, the stirring scene where the Christian martyrs are thrown into the arena with the lions, and also in the marvelous picture showing the burning of Rome, one of the most gorgeous spectacles ever thrown upon the screen.

And those familiar with church history will enjoy the visualization of the trials and sufferings of the early Christians, will strengthen their faith with the object lessons of Peter and Paul and the appearance of the Savior unto Peter as he is about to desert Rome and the Christians. Taken as a whole, this production does more for the scholar, the churchman and the amusement seeker than any entertainment that has ever been presented upon the stage.

Learn How to Darn

THE man who invented stockings would have earned over everlasting gratitude if he had gone just a step further and made a sort that wouldn't go "holey." But since he neglected his plain duty in this matter we have to make up for it by repairing neatly and as best we may the yawning holes that greet us when we least expect them.

It is a great mistake to wear a stocking after the first break has appeared in it without at once repairing the damage. Truly in the case of stockings a stitch in time saves nineteen or twenty stitches half a day later.

You should always begin to mend your stockings on the wrong side. Put the needle in a full half inch to the right of the hole and slightly above it where the cloth is firm. Extend a vertical line (that is, a line that runs up and down) of small stitches the same distance below the hole; now turn and keep your second line of stitches very close to the first and see that spaces are always opposite stitches. At the end of each row leave a little loop to allow for shrinking when the stocking goes to the laundry. Each row of stitches should be a little longer than the one before until the center of the hole is reached; then they should be graduated on the other side in proportion, so that a diamond shaped darn is made.

When you begin to darn across the hole be sure to pick up every other stitch, so as to weave the darn together. Be sure to begin this cross stitch the same distance above. See that the wool threads, as they are called, are packed closely, and do not forget the loops. Make this part of the darn also diamond shaped. About the edge of the hole there will be torn loops of the stocking. Pass your needle through and under these loops, throwing them upon the wrong side. Your darn, if it is made according to these directions, will show only the woven stitches filling the hole.

Set to work in earnest to learn how to darn, all you busy young needlewomen. It is one of the most useful and helpful household arts you will ever be called upon to know.

DELICIOUS SOUP ACCESSORIES

THERE are many accessories that may be served with soups. Probably the best known of these are toasted crackers, croutons, noodles and cheese fingers. Grated cheese is sometimes served with soup.

Croutons.

Stale bread should be cut in dice and browned in the oven, with a little butter added to make it crisp. They are then put in the soup at time of serving. They are particularly appropriate for cream soups.

Old Fashioned Noodles.

Stir sufficient flour into a beaten egg to make a stiff dough. Add salt. Roll out on board as thin as possible. Allow it to remain on board for about a half hour. Cut in small strips and allow to dry. Add to soup when required and cook for fifteen minutes.

Caramel Coloring For Soups.

Stir a cup of sugar in a baking pan until nearly to the burning point. Pour it into a cupful of cold water and stir for a few minutes. Cool, place in bottle and keep on hand for coloring consommé, sauces, gravies and soups.

Soup Balls.

Three eggs, a pinch of salt and a dash of pepper are required for this. Boil two eggs twenty minutes, make paste of the yolks, add salt and pepper and the raw eggs well beaten. Shape into tiny balls, roll in flour or bread-crumbs and fry brown in hot fat. These may be made at any time and added to the soup just at serving.

Marrow Balls.

Melt marrow and strain through cheesecloth. Add one egg well beaten. Season with pepper, salt and a little paprika and mix with enough bread-crumbs to make into balls. Poach in boiling water. These are to be added to the soup at serving time.

Cheese Fingers.

Crackers or stale bread may be cut in strips of any desired size, spread with butter and grated cheese and browned in the oven.
